

Jason Keith Lindsey

Alfred Lord Tennyson eloquently conveys our heartfelt sentiments in the loss of Jason: From In Memoriam: Dear friend, far off, my lost desire, / So far, so near in woe and weal, / O loved the most, when most I feel / There is a lover and a higher, / Known and unknown, human divine, / Sweet human hand and lips and eye: / Dear heavenly friend that canst not die, / Mine, mine, forever, ever mine...

Our loving son and brother, 19 years old Jason, died in an accident while four-wheeling in the mountains, one of the many outdoor activities he enjoyed, on Lion's Back Mountain, near Moab, on May 2, 1997.

Born October 20, 1977, in Salt Lake City, Utah, the son of Richard Jay and Diane Marie Lindsey, His happiest moments were spent communing with nature: he was a great bow hunter and loved snowboarding, water skiing, and hiking. He is a great sketch artist and enjoyed shooting pool and playing baseball with friends. Jason graduated from Olympus High School in 1996. He was among the hardest working teenagers in the valley and had aspirations for restaurant management and furthering his education to become a Park Ranger.

Survived by parents, Richard and Diane, two sisters, Mindy and Cindy, one brother, Richard B., all Salt Lake City, Utah; grandmother and step grandfather, Don and Marion Leathersow, North Ogden; grandfather and step grandmother, Donald B. and Rosey Lindsey, Island Park, Idaho; and many cousins, uncles, and aunts. Preceded in death by his grandmother, Nadine Larrin.
